

WATERMART® MEDIAGUARD

This add-on to your water softener or whole home filter makes a big difference!

You get real health and system benefits when you add a Watermart Mediaguard:

- Enhanced chlorine removal through your system. This means healthier water.
- Your carbon or resin will be more effective for longer. Lower maintenance costs.
- Heavy metals will be significantly reduced.
- Bacteriostatic - helps prevent bacteria from growing in carbon and resin.
- It is a chemical-free process.

How does it work?

The Watermart MediaGuard is a device that fits inside a regular pressure tank through which the water passes before seeing the media contained in the tank. These are filled with KDF® media which reduces the chlorine and lead levels. Pressure drops through the MediaGuard are nominal. When the regular system backwashes, the MediaGuard also backwashes to clean out any accumulated sediment.

No salt “Water Softeners”:

- Over the past couple of years, many companies have been advertising “No-salt water softening systems”. This is, in fact, very misleading. We sell units like this too – but almost entirely for the commercial market where the water is in closed loops and not exposed to air. We thought it needs to be clear what these systems offer. These units can be more accurately called; “scale prevention units” – not softeners. These salt-free scale prevention systems will not do the following:
 - Reduce mineral build up on dry surfaces such as glass from the dishwasher and shower doors.
 - Make water easier on skin and hair.
 - Reduce the amount of soap used in washing machines, dish-washers and the shower.
 - What these systems will do is prevent scale buildup inside hot water tanks and household plumbing.
